1. Website Name – WeBuildPCs.com
2. Description – This website specializes in two major categories revolving around PCs. The first category covers a wide range of PC knowledge related to specific specs. The second category focuses on the process of building PCs for customers. The overall goal of this website is to provide knowledge that is useful for both beginners and advanced users. It explains each part of a computer and guides users on how to build their dream PC.
3. Page Names – Home Page, About Us, PC Components, PC Building Guide, and Build Your PC.
4. Data Storage – The stored data will be based around PC components such as part name, category, technical specifications, price, and manufacturer.